AMENDMENT #1

1. Amend page 38 of 44 under "Secure Server Room:"

From:

The server rooms must provide sufficient air conditioning to allow for the racks to run continuously with the room doors closed and maintain a room temperature.

The server rooms must have back-up power to allow for operation at the stated temperature even if primary power to the building fails.

To now read:

The server room must have a 36,000 BTU split air conditioning unit to allow the racks to run continuously with the room doors closed at a maximum room temperature of 68 degrees to include routine professional maintenance and cleaning.

The server room must have back-up power to allow all equipment to remain in operation if the primary power to the building fails. All server room outlets must be connected to the back-up generator.

All others remain unchanged.
